Anna loved to help others. One of her most difficult challenges was losing her hair. She found a way to turn into a way to bring smiles to other kids going through the same challenge. Through fund raising and gifts, she raised almost $ 2,000 to buy bald Bratz Dolls to give to other kids undergoing chemo treatment. This inspired us to continue to bring smiles to other kids with cancer through the AYJ Fund.

One of the AYJ Fund's early projects was to honor Anna's birthday. We collected donations from family and so many friends in our community and filled string backpacks for kids being treated for cancer. Anna's friends came over and filled over 90 backpacks!
